Dear NSU Student,

Welcome to Northeastern State University (NSU). The Greek community of fraternities and sororities provide one of the best opportunities to become connected with campus activities at NSU. As a member of a fraternity or sorority, you will develop strong friendships and create associations with people and organizations that will last a lifetime. In addition to social activities, Greek life provides important volunteer service opportunities for students on campus, within Tahlequah, and on the national level through partnerships with national charities.

From your first day in Formal Recruitment, you are given responsibility and held accountable for your actions, instilling in you one of our foundations - leadership. As you grow and develop within the Greek community, you will continue to build on that foundation and grow outward into the community. At NSU, Greek students serve in a majority of positional leadership roles in non-Greek student organizations.

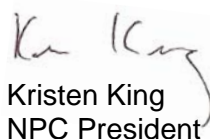

Each organization in the Greek community contributes numerous service hours to better the community. Whether volunteering at area schools, cleaning the surrounding community or hosting a fundraiser for a charitable organization such as the Children's Medical Center or Make a Wish Foundation, every Greek organization contributes to the betterment of the community. Our canned food drive philanthropy for Greek Week 2007 raised over 7,500 lbs of cans for Tahlequah's Help in Crisis center.

The friendships formed as a result of involvement in the Greek system are not limited to your organization. You will develop relationships across campus with other students, organizations, faculty, and staff, and you will develop ties with the community. These relationships are built with a strong foundation and will last a lifetime.

We encourage all incoming students to experience Formal Recruitment at NSU. Participating in Formal Recruitment does not require you to commit to any organization at the end of the week. Rather, it provides an opportunity for you to learn more about our individual chapters and their contributions.
